WAKE UP!

About Paul E. Hendricks

Bestselling author Paul E. Hendricks lives an extraordinary life on the island of Oahu in Hawaii; but just a few years ago nothing seemed more farfetched. For years Paul lived the outlaw's life of drug abuse and violence as he struggled with the core issues that lead him down that path. Then, Paul experienced an awakening that set him on a new journey of forgiveness, compassion and unconditional love; one that led to success and the realization of "impossible" dreams.

Along with bestselling authors Barbara DeAngelis, Mark Victor Hansen, Brendon Burchard and others, Paul co-authored the bestselling book, How Did You Do That! (YInspire Media, 2009). He is the CEO and Founder of Uncovery Press, committed to providing readers with thought-provoking, inspirational and entertaining fiction and non-fiction books that will support them in breaking through limiting beliefs and realizing their full potential. Uncovery Press' premiere title is Paul's latest book, Wake Up! The Enlightenment of an American Misfit and Outlaw (2010).

Paul is an award-winning motivational and transformational speaker. Weaving together spoken word, humor, visualization techniques and inspirational stories, Paul pokes holes in people's limiting beliefs, helps them discover their "golden touch" and enroll into their dreams.

Paul is a facilitator with Ike Pono Quest, an educational and consulting company offering a groundbreaking approach to creating success and balance in all endeavors. Rooted in Hawaiian values, Ike Pono Quest operates from love and respect, empowering participants to "Be Aloha." Currently, the class is offered in the northwest region of the United States, Hawaii, Las Vegas, Boston and Japan. Paul is partnering with Ike Pono Quest to open up new markets across the United States and abroad.

Paul is a member of the Men's Leadership Hawaii Foundation, a non-profit organization dedicated to making a positive difference in Hawaii and around the world. He lives with his wife Diane and two pit bulls on Oahu, Hawaii.
